

4XTron

A cryptocurrency is a cryptography-secured digital or virtual currency, which makes it almost impossible to double-spend or counterfeit. A distributed ledger enforced by a disparate network of computers, many cryptocurrencies are decentralized networks based on blockchain technology. In order to meet the needs of today's world of cryptocurrencies we introduced 4XTron that is designed to fulfill the needs of finances controlled digitally. With a multitude of options, the all-new 4XT cryptocurrency, MyBtcFx, takes you to the unique era of digital finance. The network hosting and TRC-20 "Peer to Peer" makes 4XTron one of today's most investment-worthy cryptocurrencies. With the introduction of TRC-20 that is a series of contract specifications for the assignment of token assets and a TRC-20 contract is deemed to be written in accordance with this standard. When the assets of the TRC-20 contract are docked by wallets and exchanges, you will know from this series of principles which roles and functions the contract specifies to enable the docking. The development of the TRC20 token always involves constructing a very well secured token that continues to hold the value of a particular asset that can be traded, exchanged or sold. The worldwide supply of coins has been limited to 50 million. Our company MyBtcFx deals with the products such as Casino, Sports Book, Various Affiliate programs and P2P Exchange by providing the network 4XTron cryptocurrency to perform unlimited transactions and managing the trading possibilities. It is digital cash that you can use anywhere.
